

Policy for Course Auditing by Retired Faculty & Staff

Retired Goshen College faculty and spouse may participate in courses offered on campus at Goshen College without any formal registration or charge, if the permission of the instructor is obtained. An audit form must be obtained from the registrar, signed by the instructor and returned to the registrar to complete this process. The benefit noted above applies to all lecture courses but does not apply to laboratory experiences including experiential-based courses like ceramics, photography, etc.

Effective September 7, 1999 by approval of the President's Council in session September 7, 1999.
