Jimin Seo, Visiting Assistant Professor of Music, is providing live music before and after the program on the Miller Terrace. Enjoy!

Explore:

You are invited to explore Westlawn from 3-5 p.m., starting wherever you prefer. After the 3:15 program and ribbon-cutting, there will be identified hosts in each space to answer questions and guide you, and special activities as noted.

- First Floor: lobby, Gunden Commons, Mark Community Room (refreshments), kitchen and dining hall, Miller Terrace, stair/elevator tower
- Second Floor: Center for Nursing and Public Health administrative offices, Goshen Health Simulation Lab (briefly view live simulations with a pediatric patient or a birth mother), faculty suite, Zehr Skills Lab (observe students in action)
- Third Floor: student lounge and huddle rooms, Greencroft Classroom (refreshments and live video observation of simulations), classroom (featuring a Master of Science in Nursing class in session: Advanced Health Assessment), Advanced Nursing Practice Suite with exam and procedure rooms

Enjoy your refreshments, live music by Jimin Seo and conversation outdoors on the Miller Terrace all afternoon.

4 p.m. — Special building systems tour, led by Brian Mast, Director of Facilities and Renovation Project Manager. For those who are interested, meet Brian in the kitchen. Space is limited; max of 20 people.

Additional activities:

- Did you once live in Westlawn? If so, try to find your dorm room!
- Just like in our alumni magazine, you can find Menno hidden somewhere in Westlawn! Spot the 4.5" tall sculpture (he looks just like the photo at right) and snap a photo to enter our drawing to win a GC mug. Submit your photo by emailing advance@goshen.edu and we'll draw five winners!
- Join us in celebrating National Nurses Appreciation Week! Sign our guest book, write a note of encouragement to our nursing students and faculty, and snap a photo by the backdrop.

Accessibility:

- A host will be available at the stair lift in the lobby and at the elevator to help you if you need it.
- A shuttle cart will be available at the Adelphian Fountain to take you back to the Music Center parking lot when you are ready.
