

Ecology and Sustainability in the Indian Himalaya

2022 May Term
INTL 251 / SUST 298

- explore habitats from lowland forests to alpine meadows, and everything in between
- study ways that people have lived sustainably in these places for centuries... and ways that they haven't
- experience the incredible social, linguistic, religious and ethnic diversity of the world's most populous democracy
- trek across a Himalayan ridge with the support of porters and donkeys
- apply lessons from the other side of the world to your own life in northern Indiana
- see the Taj Mahal in person!

Some Key Details:

- Three credits (SST Cultural Perspective)
- Open to all majors
- Course fee = $2100, + airfare (est. at $800)

For more information contact the course instructor, Jonathon Schramm
(jschramm@goshen.edu).

Home base for the trip is the Hanifl Centre of Woodstock International School. Check it out at: haniflcenter.com

Community Engaged Learning: India

2022 Summer Term INTL 271

- follow your learning in the India May Term course with a 3-week service placement elsewhere in India
- service opportunities will focus on social services, environmental protection, and sustainable economic development, among others – many ways to connect this to your major and career goals
- experience the hospitality of coworkers and host families
- gain comfort in everyday living in rural and small-town India
- have your imagination sparked with the many ways that positive change is happening in the world!
- Runs from May 27 to June 18, 2022

This course is designed to follow the INTL 251 May Term in India, and can not be registered for separately.

Some Key Details:

- Three credits (SST Community Engaged Learning requirement)
- Open to all majors
- Course tuition = $2585 (same as campus tuition for summer course); covers all costs

For more information contact the course instructor, Jonathon Schramm (jschramm@goshen.edu).

