Congregation: (everyone except graduates)

O God,

We proclaim
that work and worship are one,
that life is undivided.

Use these gifts and talents for your church's ministries of reconciliation, service and mercy.

Graduates:

Holy God,

the source of all good desires,
and all righteous judgements,
and all just works:

Give to us, your servants,
that peace which the world cannot give,
so that our minds may be fixed on doing your will,
and, that we, being delivered from the fear of all enemies,
may live in peace and quietness;

All: Through the mercies of Jesus Christ, our Savior. Amen.

Arrangements have been made for a professional photographer to take a picture of each graduate as he or she receives a diploma. Color proofs of these photos will be mailed one week after graduation. Details have been given to the graduates. This will ensure that all families will have a picture of their graduate receiving a diploma.

The Class of 2002

The following list of degree candidates includes all members of the 2002 graduating class whether participating in the exercises or being graduated in absentia. Some December 2002 graduates have chosen to participate in these exercises.

Two degrees are conferred. Those with majors in Nursing, Organizational Management or Management Information Systems receive the Bachelor of Science degree. All others receive the Bachelor of Arts.

Following each name is the field of study being completed by the student. Use of the diagonal (/) indicates that the two fields are a double major program with two equal areas of concentration. Areas in which a minor will be completed are indicated by italics.

Julia Kasdorf

Julia Kasdorf, who attended Goshen College from 1981 to 1983, is associate professor of English and directs the graduate creative writing program at the Pennsylvania State University. Her poetry collection Sleeping Preacher won the 1991 Agnes Lynch Starrett Poetry Prize at the University of Pittsburgh and the 1993 Great Lakes Colleges Association Award for New Writing. Other books include Eve's Striptease, The Body and the Book: Writing from a Mennonite Life and a forthcoming biography, Fixing Tradition: Joseph W. Yoder, Amish American. The New Yorker, English Journal, Paris Review, Poetry Daily, Conrad Grebel Review, Three Dozen Poems Read by Garrison Keillor from the Writer's Almanac, Mennonite Quarterly Review and Festival Quarterly have published her poetry. Kasdorf earned bachelor's, master's and doctorate degrees at New York University. She lives in Bellefonte, Pa., with her husband, David Kasdorf, and a daughter.

Thinking of Certain Mennonite Women

When I think I can't bear to trace
one more sorrow back to its source,

I think of Lois those summer evenings,
when, supper dishes done, she'd climb

a windmill and cling beneath its great blades, drawing water from under her father's fields.

She'd stay there until the sun went down
on barn roof, garden, and the one paved road

pointing toward town. When I am afraid to set out once more alone, I see Julie pumping her legs so hard she believes she will fly off the swing set and land gently on the lawn. I see her let go, braids streaking behind, then see her knees

shredded on gravel, stuck to stockings
each time she kneels to pray at a pew.

When I can't tell my own desire from the wishes of others, I remember my mom, too young to know or care better, flinging her jumper, blouse, socks, and slip

into the wind, dancing for flower beds until her mother discovers. When I wonder how I should live this only one life,

I think of how they tell these stories:

honestly, without explanation,
to whoever will listen.

—Julia Kasdorf

Honors Program

The vision for honors study at Goshen College is broad and inclusive rather than prescribed and elitist. It promotes collaboration as well as individual achievement and celebrates a wide variety of talents and gifts.

The following criteria must be met if students apply to earn a degree "with honors:" completing two or more honors seminars, presenting work at an academic symposium, participating in 40 or more hours of community service and writing a senior thesis.

Nursing Honors

Sigma Theta Tau International endeavors to seek out and reward all students in baccalaureate or higher degree nursing programs who have demonstrated ability in nursing as evidenced by superior academic achievement. Honors nursing students wear a cord on their commencement gown.

The academic procession

The history of academic dress reaches back into the earliest days of the oldest universities. The costumes and colors, trimmings and patterns you will see are all traditional and interpret both the degree and field of learning. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves; the master's gown has an oblong sleeve. The doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves decorated with chevrons of velvet.

The colors you will see in the hoods and gowns of GC faculty represent the various fields in which the degrees were taken: apricot – nursing, brown – fine arts, citron – social work, crimson – journalism, dark blue – philosophy, yellow – science, green – medicine, lemon yellow – library science, blue – education, pink – music, purple – law, sage green – physical education, salmon pink – public health, scarlet – theology, brown – business, white – arts and humanities.

The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees, are lined with the official colors of the university or college conferring the degree. Hoods are edged and bound with velvet of the color appropriate for the degree.

The lamp and the book

In 1904 “Culture for Service” was announced officially as the motto of Goshen College, first spoken by President N.E. Byers in the closing words of his inaugural address. There was a traditional graduation week ceremony carried out, at least by the early 1920s, in which the graduating senior class solemnly passed the actual emblems of the book and lamp to the juniors. Found in the college seal, the book serves as a double symbol for an institution where there is importance attached to the written word and especially the privileged place of holy Scripture. The lighted Grecian lamp represents the light that comes from learning. In a world of darkness, the light pushes back the darkness – to know, to see, to discover truth. GC is a place of light and of enlightenment.

Artist’s statement

Q & A becomes a common symbol in our society. The question mark represents our daily encounter with questions and answers. Each of us has different questions and different ways to ask questions. The symbolic portraits represent the diversity within our community at Goshen College, the United States and in the world. These people are the representation of us – the graduating class – who are from different backgrounds, social groups, ethnicities, majors, religions and life styles. Regardless of these varieties, we all have common ground. We have questions in our minds and we try to find answers. As GC graduates, we learn to constantly seek the truth in our questions and answers in order to shape our voices in the world.

–Joyce V. Hiendarto

The 2002 Commencement Planning Committee consisted of seniors Will Eichelberger, Joyce Hiendarto, Rachel Metzler and Kara Westerbeek; class sponsors Gwen Miller and Ryan Miller; Julie Zimmerman, Dee Birkey and Stan Miller, executive secretary.
