

Academic Resource and Writing Center

GROWING INDEPENDENT, LIFELONG LEARNERS

What we do

The Academic Resource and Writing Center (ARWC) offers several programs to promote independent, life-long learning for all students of Goshen College:

- Writing Center and writing mentors
- Peer tutors
- Coaching in organizational and time management skills
- Special services for students with documented learning disabilities

No extra cost – all services are covered by student fees.

From a student who received tutoring:

“I was able to talk out the concepts with someone who was able to tell me if I was on the right track or not. This helped me a lot with studying and understanding the material.”

Writing Center

Improve your writing!

Drop in at the Writing Center:

At the library, to the right of the main entrance

- Sunday through Thursday, 8-10 p.m. and Monday through Thursday, 4-6 p.m.
- Begins on the third week of class (first two weeks by request)
- Closed Friday and Saturday

Writing mentoring

If you would like to meet with a writing mentor on a regular basis, or several times for a specific paper, we can pair you with someone you can work with regularly.

Organization and time management pointers

Some students benefit from individual consultation with the Academic Resource and Writing Center staff. Regular appointments offer support to help you reach your academic goals, step by step.

Many websites offer success strategies for college. We recommend: www.howtostudy.org.

Services for students with learning differences

The ARWC supports Goshen College students with documented learning disabilities by helping them advocate for themselves and by coordinating reasonable academic accommodations.
