

Experience Living on Campus

Goshen College offers a variety of housing options for students which includes traditional Residence Halls, Apartments, and Intentional Living Community Houses. Campus housing is primarily designed for single students enrolled full-time and younger than 25 years of age. We consider the residential experience a vital part of the education we offer. We believe students who live on campus have the greatest opportunities for learning and growth by living in close proximity to their peers and also having easy access to campus activities, services and facilities.

Options and Requirements

The standards held by Goshen College are based on Christian ideals, educational goals, expectations needed for compatible group living, and guidelines needed to insure proper care of the housing facilities. Certain regulations are necessary to protect the rights of the individual while others are designed to protect the community.

Attendance at Goshen College is a privilege and carries with it the obligation to observe college regulations. While attending Goshen College, a student is subject to the laws of Indiana as well as those of the local community outside of the campus. Campus housing is an integral part of campus life and contributes in many ways to the education students receive.

Students 25 years of age or older are not eligible to live on campus without a formal request and special consideration from the Director of Student Life Operations. All full time students enrolled at GC must live in campus housing unless they meet one of these requirements:

- Have 112 + credit hours
- Turn 23 years of age during a given semester
- Live with parents or immediate family member

Kratz, Miller, & Yoder Residence Halls

Kratz, Miller, and Yoder Residence Halls each house first and second year students with men and women living on separate floors. Most rooms are double rooms, but there are a limited number of single, triple, and quad rooms available. Laundry, kitchens, lounges, and recreation facilities are located in the Kratz-Miller-Yoder connector. Returning students interested in these accommodations can make their room selection in accordance with the residence life lottery system during room sign-up night in April of spring semester.

Students interested in these accommodations will make their selections during an online sign-up process beginning in late March of Spring Semester.

Intentional Living Communities

Students who have graduated from high school at least two years prior to the first day of classes are eligible for Intentional Living Communities. ILC is an intentional living community program that offers an opportunity to deepen friendships in a largely self-governing environment. Groups are responsible for cleaning their own facilities. Students can apply as a group, with co-ed options available, during the spring semester for space the following year. Groups are evaluated on several criteria including campus involvement, GPA, standards compliance, group capacity, and classification.

Housing Opportunities

Intentional Living Communities (ILC)

The ILC application process begins in late February and involves self-selected groups completing an online application and submitting a group video. ILC Applications are evaluated by the Residence Life Director Team and announced in mid-March. Houses are awarded based on an online application and group interview with Residence Life. Students applying for Intentional Living Communities are required to submit a $200 deposit at the time of their application. The deposit is refunded if groups are not selected. Eligible students would have graduated from high school at least two years prior to the first day of classes.

Student Apartments

Beginning in late-March students planning to live in the Student Apartments can self-select groups and reserve an apartment through an online application form on the Residence Life webpage. Groups applying for an apartment are required to submit a non-refundable $200 deposit at the time of their application. Eligible students would have graduated from high school at least two years prior to the first day of classes.

Traditional Residence Halls

In early April all students planning to live in the Kratz/Miller/Yoder Residence Halls or Kulp Hall will participate in a lottery for room selection. Students interested in these spaces are required to pay a room deposit of $50, refundable until July 15th. Find details about KMY and Kulp Hall at https://www.goshen.edu/studentlife/residence_life/dorms.

Note: The housing lottery order is determined by a student's years out of high school at the start of fall semester.

Roommates

Returning students may choose their roommates during the room selection process in the spring. Changes in room or roommate during the school year are discouraged. In the middle of a semester, this will only be done in situations of extreme incompatibility. Residence Life Coordinators are available to offer assistance and will ultimately approve any changes. An administrative room change fee is charged for any room changes approved during the course of the school year.

Housing Selection Guidelines

Who is eligible to live in campus housing?

All full-time students who are single and without dependents and who are younger than 25 years of age. Unless students turn 23 during a given semester, or live with parents or immediate family member, they are expected to live on campus. Full restitution of applicable room and board fees will be expected if students attempt to bypass residency requirements.

How do I make a housing deposit, and how much is the deposit?

You can submit your deposit online on the Goshen College homepage or in person at the Accounting Office in AD10. Housing deposits for Student Apartments and Intentional Living Communities are $200, while rooms in KMY and Kulp are $50.

What should I do if I plan to live off-campus next semester?

You'll need to fill out our "Off-Campus Housing Confirmation" application on the Residence Life homepage to confirm your eligibility. You may also submit an exemption request if you are not yet eligible to live off campus but wish to due to extenuating circumstances. Only students who've lived on campus in prior years need to fill out this form. Traditional commuter students living with a parents all four years do not need to request an exemption.

Which living spaces on campus are ADA handicap accessible?

Kratz/Miller/Yoder, as well as the Student Apartments feature elevators and ADA accessibility.

Am I required to have a meal plan?

All first, second, and third year students living on campus are required to have a meal plan. Students in their fourth year may opt out of a meal plan entirely and become eligible to purchase the commuter 30 Block Plan. First and second-year students living in Kratz, Miller, or Yoder Hall will automatically be assigned the Carte Blanche (unlimited plan). Students living in Kulp, Coffman, Romero Student Apartments, or Intentional Living Communities are eligible for all available meal plans including the minimum 65-Block plan. Each meal plan comes with Munch Money credit (amount varies) that can be used for meals at the Westlawn Dining Hall, Leaf Raker, or Java Junction.

Kratz, Miller, Yoder, & Kulp Hall (Lottery System)

How does the lottery system work and who is it for?

Each student planning to live in Kratz, Miller, Yoder, or Kulp Hall for the fall semester should plan to attend room signup night in early April (check the campus calendar for the official date). On that night each student will participate in a lottery drawing to determine the order of room selection. Priority will be given to upper class students in the order of selection. Students wishing to live in Kulp Hall will be called first.

I will be a second year student next year with enough credits to be considered a junior, am I eligible to live in the student apartments or an Intentional Living Community house?

No, you must be at least two-years removed since your high school graduation date at the start of the Fall semester to qualify for Junior/Senior housing options. Traditional first or second year students, regardless of credit hours, must choose a space in Kratz, Miller or Yoder Residence Halls.

What do I need in order to select a room on housing sign-up night?

(1) You must be registered for classes full-time for the upcoming fall semester and present your Student ID at sign-up. (2) You must submit a $50 deposit by 12:30pm on the day of room signup. (3) You must demonstrate your support for the community standards at room selection by signing a poster document provided by Residence Life staff.

What if I am out-of-town or on SST during the housing selection?

You can provide a written note or email granting permission to a friend who may serve as your proxy at sign-up. You will still need to submit the required $50 deposit to be eligible for selection. If you are unable to find a substitute you should make alternative arrangements with a Residence Life Coordinator prior to room signup.

Three of us would like to sign up for a Quad (or two of us would like to sign up for a triple room), can we do so and be open to a transfer student?

No, you must be able to fill a quad or triple to capacity at room signup. Students unable to do so will need to choose a standard double room. If there are available triples or quads still at the conclusion of room sign-up you'll be allowed to sign-up for these spaces below capacity for additional fees.

I am living in Kratz/Miller/Yoder next year and would prefer not to have a traditional meal plan, but instead a block plan similar to students living in the apartments or Intentional Living Communities, can I do this?

No, all students living in KMY must choose either an unlimited plan or the 14 meals per week plan. Exceptions will only be made for third and fourth year students.

I would prefer my own room next year in Kratz/Miller/Yoder. Can I do this, and how much more does it cost?

While everyone needs to be open to living with a roommate, students who prefer a room alone may note this preference; private rooms are granted as space allows. However, one person in a double private room is an additional $750 per semester. There are several single rooms in Kratz/Miller that are reserved for students with documented needs verified by a physician.

Can I room with an incoming transfer student next year?

Yes, provided the incoming transfer has already been admitted to Goshen College for the fall and has been assigned a student ID number. You will need to acquire that information from the incoming transfer along with their permission to assign them a room with you.

I do not have a roommate lined up for next year. What should I do?

You may select a double room to yourself at signup and fill out a Residence Life Housing Form. This form will be available at room signup and will help us find you a suitable roommate based on common interests before the fall semester. If possible, we will pair you with an incoming transfer or current student in a similar position.

I will be not be on campus next fall; will I be able to sign up for a room on selection night?

No, only students planning to live on campus in the fall can select a traditional residence hall room on selection night. Residence Life will contact students away on SST to verify and determine a spring housing assignment after fall semester has begun.

Student Apartment Application

Does it cost more to live in the Student Apartments?

For a complete breakdown of housing prices visit the accounting web site at: <http://www.goshen.edu/accounting/>

Where can I find the online Student Apartment application?

The online application for student apartments will be linked on the Residence Life portion of the Goshen College website during the month of March.

When can our group apply for a student apartment for next fall?

The Student Apartment online application goes live in late March. During the first two days we will accept only applications from students considered to be 5th-year seniors. In the second phase we will accept applications from students entering their fourth year since high school graduation. During the third phase we will accept applications from students entering their third year since high school graduation.

Do we have to submit our housing deposit before filling out the online application?

Yes, and No. We will process all applications in the order we receive them based on the seniority outlined in the previous question. However, groups that have students who have not yet submitted deposits at the time of their application have their application placed on hold until accounting confirms that all deposits have been made. This could cost you your place in line.

I'm planning to get married this summer and would still like to live on campus this fall, am I eligible to do so?

For a married couple to be eligible for the Student Apartments they must: (1) be of traditional age 18-25, (2) both spouses must be enrolled for a minimum of 9 credit hours in the fall semester, (3) pay the normal fee structure equivalent to single residential students, which also includes a meal plan, and (4) must maintain all college furnishings in the provided apartment. We will give priority to couples who agree to these terms and place them in a two-person apartment if available.

What should I do if my chosen roommates are not on campus when the application goes live?

Students away on SST, internships, or transferring in will still need to submit their housing deposit before your application will be processed. Plan ahead-students away for spring can submit their deposit online from the GC website at any time.

What are the capacity requirements for the student apartments?

Your apartment group must meet the capacity for the apartment you are applying. For example, if the apartment is designed for 4-students, then you must have a minimum of 4-students in your group. Loft apartments can be acquired with a group of 3 or 4 students. Student groups occupying a 4-person loft with two bedroom at capacity receive a $500 discount (SA410 is the exception unless you are sharing a room). 3-person groups living in the lofts can do so at the same rate as 4-person groups living in the flat style apartments. We do make concessions for student groups where SST, GC academic programs, or early graduation affects capacity for one semester. If one of the aforementioned programs affects your group's capacity, you may still apply for an apartment provided there is only one person missing from your group for either fall or spring semester.

What if someone leaves our apartment group unexpectedly prior to fall semester and we fall below capacity?

After June 1st groups will not be penalized for falling below capacity for fall semester. However groups will be expected to find a replacement for spring semester or pay a premium $500 extra per-person to maintain the apartment for spring.

Our group can't meet the capacity requirement for any available apartment. Can we sign up for an apartment and be open to transfers joining us?

No, if you can't meet capacity for an available apartment you will need to select an alternative housing assignment elsewhere on campus. You may also opt to pay a premium rate of $500 (per resident/per semester) with no obligation to add additional residents provided the apartment remains at 2/3 capacities. Please note all two-person apartments must be at full capacity to be eligible. We do permit groups of two to acquire a 2-person apartment for fall only or spring only.

Do we need to have 6-people to apply for a listed 4-6 person capacity apartment? And if not, can we have the additional furniture removed?

No, all apartments listed as 4-6 capacity are optimally designed for four students. Those sharing a room in the 4-6 person apartments will see a reduction in price of $500 per semester; however, it is not an expectation to share the double rooms. Please note that all listed 4-6 person capacity apartments feature two-bedrooms with bunks and additional furniture that can't be removed from the apartment. We encourage groups of four to choose traditional 4-person capacity apartments (when available) at the time of sign-up to avoid this inconvenience.

Intentional Living Communities Application

What spaces will be used for Intentional Living Communities next fall?

We will be accepting co-ed or single gender ILC Applications for East Hall (9-12), Howell House (9-12), Kenwood House (8-10), and single gender applications for Kulp South (6-8) and Kulp West (4-5). Housing spaces for ILC are announced each year and subject to change at Housing Information Night in mid-February.

When can my group apply for an Intentional Living Community?

We will be accepting applications beginning in the middle of February and announce assignments in the middle of March. For the exact date and details on the application process please visit the ILC homepage on the Goshen College website.

What are the qualifications for Intentional Living Communities and how does the application work?

Students must be two-years out of high school before the beginning of the upcoming fall semester. Qualifying groups must submit an online application on the housing website starting in mid-February.

What are the capacity requirements for Intentional Living Communities and what if someone from my group vacates our house between semesters and we fall below capacity?

Students are encouraged to occupy units at their full capacity when submitting an application. However, the primary requirement for all groups is to maintain at least 3/4 of the house's total capacity. This includes any time in which your group is affected by SST, Internship, or early graduation departures. Following the ILC selection process, if your group agrees to a housing contract you will be expected to maintain your given capacity at the time of your original application. Should your group fall below 3/4 capacity at any time, you will be given three options: (1) Your group can remain in the house and each forfeit the $200 housing deposit submitted at the time of your application; (2) You can opt to add students to your group to meet capacity; (3) You can relocate to another campus housing location where your group meets the minimum capacity requirement.

Is there a male/female ratio requirement for co-ed living spaces in ILC?

No, however, if your group has a proportionately imbalanced male/female ratio you should recognize the challenges and demonstrate in your application why and how it will work for your group. It must also be noted that the male/female ratio for co-ed groups must be congruent with the desired house's bedroom configuration. For example, Kenwood House features five double rooms. Men and women cannot share a room; therefore the male/female breakdown would need to be 6-4 if your group is at capacity.

Who evaluates ILC Applications and by what criteria?

The Residence Life Director team evaluates each application. Aspects that are important to your application include group size meeting capacity, classification, programming, and having a theme or objective.
